POLICE LAUNCH SINKS

COLLISION IN SQUALL

HITS WATERBOAT
IN DARKNESS

MISHAP NEAR HOLT'S WHARF

As the result of a heavy collision with a water-boat shortly before one o'clock this morning, Water Police Launch, No. 5, was sunk about 150 feet off Holt's Wharf.

No lives were lost. Sergeant Darkin, the officer in charge of the launch, and Sub-inspector Wright, scrambled aboard the water-boat, understood to have been the No. 1 boat of the Union Waterboat Company, before the launch sank, but the other members of the crew went into the water as the vessel foundered.

A heavy rain was sweeping through the Harbour at the time of the collision, visibility being very bad. The No. 5 launch saw the water-boat suddenly loom up in the darkness, but too late to avoid the crash.

IN 42 FEET OF WATER.

The launch which was travelling towards Lycon, first came into service in 1923, being built at the Kowloon Docks, together with No. 6, of which she is the sister-ship.

She now lies in about forty-two feet of water about 155 feet from the Kowloon seawall. Efforts to raise her are to be made as soon as possible. In the meantime, her position will be marked by a buoy with a green flag by day and a green light by night.

Sub-inspector Wright was with Sergt. Darkin on the patrol and he was lucky enough to escape with scarcely a wetting. The crew of 14 clambered on board without a single casualty.

NEARLY AN ANNIVERSARY.

A remarkable feature of the accident is that on September 14, almost exactly a year ago, the same police launch was sunk in collision with the Yau-mat Ferry whilst in the Yau-mat Basin. She has a displacement of 72 tons.

DESCENDANT OF CONFUCIUS.

MARRIED IN PEKING RECENTLY

A descendant of the great Chinese sage, Confucius, has been married in Peking, carried to the wedding in a motor-car instead of the picturesque bridal chair used for centuries.

The bride is the elder sister of Kung Tzu-chun, seventy-fourth in the direct male line of the family. The bride is known as Fu-tzu, and the groom is known as the grandson of a Shantung scholar. The family in England which came Geneva, Sept. 15. The Dutch Government has finally denounced the 1929 Convention for the Abolition of Import and Export Prohibitions, thus ensuring to Holland complete control of her own economic policy.—Reuter.

GAOL FOR DEBT

IMPORTANT LAW CHANGE

MONEYLENDING AFFECTED

That no one shall be liable for imprisonment in the execution of a judgment for the payment of debts to a money-lender, is the effect of the Ordinance to amend the law in respect to transactions with money-lenders, which is published in draft form in to-day's issue of the Government Gazette.

The object of the Ordinance, it is pointed out, is to put an end to the application to money-lending transactions of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to execution of judgments for money by imprisonment.

The Money-lenders Ordinance of 1911 is amended by the addition of the following new section after section 2 thereof:

"No person shall be imprisoned in execution of a judgment for the payment of money due to any money-lender or for the payment of money due in respect of any loan by a money-lender."

over with the Conqueror are modern compared with some of the ancient houses in China. Confucius was born nearly 2,500 years ago, and his descendants still occupy the ancestral lands in Shantung where the maiden who has now been married in Peking was raised. These lands were free from taxation until the coming of the republic.

The system of philosophy bequeathed by Confucius has ruled the mind of China for more than 20 centuries. During imperial times divine honours were paid to his memory by the Emperor twice a year in the great Confucian Temple of Peking, still one of the glories of the former capital. The bride, who married young, not very happily, died at the age of 77 years, feeling that he had not been appreciated.

BAN ON BRITISH BEER

TERRORISTS ACTIVE IN IRELAND

POLICE SCOUR DUBLIN

Dublin, Sept. 15.

The boycott of British beer is completely overshadowing the political situation at the moment.

As a consequence of the innumerable raids which have been made, British beer is no longer displayed in shop windows, but the police all over the country insist on dealing with the terrorists, who, armed with sticks and mallets, lurch round the shops, awaiting signs of the appearance of British ales, whereupon they smash all visible bottles.

A large force of police scoured the south of the County Dublin district all last night and arrested twelve suspects.—Reuter.

LOCAL SPORTSMAN MARRIED

Mr. A. B. Hamson And Miss Edith Wood

The wedding was solemnised quietly at St. John's Cathedral this morning, the Rev. N. V. Hayward officiating, of Mr. A. B. ("Bertie") Hamson, elder son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hamson, of 4, Leighton Hill Road, and Miss Edith May Wood, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wood, of Swatow.

The bridegroom is a well-known local sportsman. He was educated at Truro College, Cornwall, England, where he was keenly interested in sport, being Captain of the College soccer XI in 1921 and a prolific run-getter for the cricket XI. Since his return to the Colony in 1925 he has given up football and confined himself to cricket and hockey. At cricket he plays for Craigengower and at hockey in the St. Andrew's Mamak team.

The bride was a teacher at the Diocesan Girls' School, Kowloon. At the ceremony at the Cathedral, the bride was given away by Miss H. D. Sawyer, headmistress of the D.G.S., and attended by her sister Miss Alice Wood. Mr. J. R. Luke, who was at Truro College with the groom, was best man.

The reception was held at Messrs. Lane Crawford, and the honeymoon will be spent at Macao, Canton and Swatow. The future home of the couple will be 3, York Road, Kowloon Tong.

FALLS FROM VERANDAH

INDIAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Didar Singh, residing at 384 Portland Street, third floor, was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital in a serious condition yesterday, after falling from the back verandah into the backyard.

While hanging out clothes to dry on the first floor of 71, Shanghai Street, a male, Pook-Tin, overbalanced and fell into the street. He was sent to hospital for treatment.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to appoint Mr. Kenneth Keon to act as Assistant Head of the Sanitary Department in addition to his other duties, with effect from September 15, 1933.

These are days during which Dublin is accustomed to disturbances. Above is a telephoto picture of police making a baton charge in O'Connell Street.

GERMANY STATES HER CASE

BARON VON NEURATH ON DISARMAMENT

HINTS TO FRANCE

Berlin, Sept. 15.

If it was thought, by the argument that Germany merely wanted a period of rest before resorting to a policy of violence, that the domination of the victors over the vanquished could be perpetuated, it must decisively be declared that Germany would refuse to put up with such a situation any further.

This unequivocal statement upon Germany's attitude to disarmament was made to-day by the Foreign Minister, Baron von Neurath, in a speech at a reception given to foreign journalists.

ONLY ONE ALTERNATIVE.

The only alternative to equality of armaments, declared Baron von Neurath, was the collapse of the whole idea of disarmament, with tragic consequences for which Germany would not be responsible. "Fully armed nations," he went on, "have no right to talk to a defenceless Germany like a schoolmaster. They will not be listened to in Germany."

ONE-SIDED POSITION.

Referring to the allegation that Germany desired to re-arm, Baron von Neurath declared that the accusation was a deliberate effort to hide the fact that her aim was merely the removal of her present position of one-sided defencelessness.

The suggestion that the disarmament of nations should be subjected to preliminary control, prior to the international control of armaments applied to all States, was quite unworkable and quite unacceptable to Germany.

HANDS OFF!

Turning to the situation in Austria, Baron von Neurath declared that Germany had no intention of interfering in the internal affairs of Austria, or of violating existing agreements.

At the same time, however, Germany must demand that other nations refrain from interference in the Austro-German conflict.

It needs hardly be pointed out that the disarmament statement by Baron von Neurath is very significant in view of the forthcoming Anglo-French disarmament talks which open in Paris on Monday.—Reuter.

After knocking a boy down, a pusher in Kowloon was allowed to have fun away leaving the boy lying on the ground. The boy, Mr. Wong Chee, aged 9, of 6, Haiphong Road, sustained a bad leg injury and was sent to the Kowloon Hospital.

BECHANALAND FLOGGING

ADMIRAL EVANS'S REPORT

MAN INVOLVED BANISHED

London, Sept. 15.

A full report on the Bechanaland flogging case has been received at the Dominions Office from Vice-Admiral Evans who, in the absence of Sir Herbert Stanley on leave, was the Acting High Commissioner.

Important points of constitutional authority are involved in the case and the report makes it clear that Taskodi, Chief of the Bawangwato Tribe, exceeded his powers in flogging the white man, Phineas Mackintosh, and that in claiming the right to do so he was attempting to put himself above the law.

MACKINTOSH BANISHED.

As the result of the findings of the Commission of Enquiry, Mackintosh was on Wednesday banished from residence in any native territory on account of his deplorable relations with the natives. Dealing with the case of Taskodi, Admiral Evans yesterday announced his suspension from the chieftainship during His Majesty's pleasure.

The report states that the Chief admitted trying the case and giving the sentence.

CHIEF'S DEFENCE.

His defence was that, firstly, Mackintosh was a bad character, and that his action was justified, and secondly, that he was immune from the action of the natives. The report adds that the Chief's attitude was disclosed by the native court to deal with Europeans.

LADY CLAYTON KILLED

STRANGE ACCIDENT AT BROOKLANDS

THROWN FROM PLANE

London, Sept. 15.

Lady Clayton, the twenty-five-year-old widow of Sir Robert Clayton, was killed to-day in an extraordinary accident at Brooklands Aerodrome.

Lady Clayton, who was an accomplished amateur pilot, died from the injuries received as a result of being thrown off her plane.

She had started the engine and was climbing into the cockpit when the aeroplane moved forward. It was rapidly gathering speed when Lady Clayton fell. She was carried unconscious to hospital, where she died.

OASIS QUEST.

Sir Robert Clayton died last year from illness contracted during an air and motor journey across Libyan Desert, and it was Lady Clayton's intention to undertake a flight to the Libyan Desert to search for the lost oasis of Zerzura, which her husband believed he had sighted. She was testing her aeroplane when the mishap occurred at Hanworth Aerodrome.

Lady Clayton had announced her intention of carrying on with the work of exploration started by her husband before his sudden death.—British Wireless.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS

Effort to Prevent Any Unnecessary Stigma

The Government Gazette contains to-day a draft bill of an Ordinance to amend the Juvenile Offenders Ordinance of 1932.

Section 2 of this Ordinance repeals the penultimate paragraph of section 17 (1) of the principal Ordinance and re-enacts it with the substitution in the first bracket of the words "including a Certified Industrial School as defined by the Industrial and Reformatory Schools Ordinance, 1932" for the words "including an Industrial or Reformatory School."

THE OBJECT.

The object of the amendment is to ensure that persons dealt with under section 17 (1) of Ordinance No. 1 of 1932 are not sent to Reformatory Schools but, where necessary, to Certified Industrial Schools, as defined by Ordinance No. 6 of 1932, in order to prevent the attachment of any unnecessary stigma to the children or young persons who are dealt with under section 17 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1932.

Section 3 brings this amending Ordinance into force at the same time as the principal Ordinance, which it amends. Such coming into force will be on a date fixed by Proclamation under section 27 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1932.

enquiry, made it impossible to deal with him by a fine and a rebuke.

USURPATION OF POWER.

In official circles in London, the view is expressed that whatever Mackintosh's offence had been, Taskodi's claims could not be allowed and the danger of the usurpation of the power of the authorities was greatly increased otherwise the existing difficulties of administering the country would have been greatly increased.—British Wireless.

TYPHOON EAST OF BALINTANG

May Threaten Coast Near Hongkong

Bad weather is possible in the next two or three days. A typhoon is situated about 300 miles E.S.E. of South Formosa—east of the Balintang Channel, moving West or W.N.W.

If the disturbance pursues a W.N.W. course, it will threaten the coast in the vicinity of Hongkong.

EX-HOLDER IN FINAL

U.S. AMATEUR GOLF TITLE

YOUTH AND AGE

Cincinnati, Sept. 15. Max Marston, of Gulph Mill Spa, and Dan Dunlap, of Kansas City, two players scarcely heard of before, and certainly not outside the United States, will appear in the final of the amateur championship to-morrow.

Marston to-day defeated Jack Munger, of Dallas, by six up and five to play, over 36 holes.

In the other semi-final, Dan Dunlap beat W. L. Little, of San Francisco, conqueror of the title-holder, by four up and three to play.

Hill School, Pennsylvania, has a very peculiar interest in the final.

Dunlap is a graduate of the school.

41 AND 18.

Marston is the father of a fourth form boy there. Munger, whom he defeated in the semi-final, is in the sixth form of the same school. Marston is 41 years of age and Munger is only eighteen.

Marston will enter the field to-morrow a strong favourite. He won the title as far back as 1923, when he defeated Jesse Sweetser in the final.

STYMIE FEATURE.

Playing Munger to-day, he was two up at the end of the first round, and he brought off a remarkable series of stymies in the afternoon, presenting his opponent with the problem of negotiation on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd greens.

The course was very soggy. It was drizzling throughout the day. A number of women spectators followed the match round and they walked the course in bare feet owing to the fact that their high heel shoes stuck in the mud.

LONG PUTTS.

Dunlap led his opponent by one hole at the end of the eighteenth, where he fished out an eighteen-foot putt. Little was eventually three down in the early stages, but he squared at the ninth and thereafter put up a hard fight till Dunlap won the eighteenth. At the twenty-eighth Little holed out a twenty-eight footer for a birdie three, but he could not hold his youthful opponent.—Reuter.

DUTCH EAST INDIES DECREE

Intentions Said to Have Been Misunderstood

Amsterdam, Sept. 15. It is now confirmed that the Export Decree introduced in the Netherlands Indies People's Council does not refer to the possibility of a restriction upon rubber exports. The Government is anxious to restrict the export of various products, but not rubber.

Simplicity Is Keynote of Paris Fall Styles

DAYTIME SILHOUETTE UNCHANGED EXCEPT FOR PLAIN SKIRT FRONTS
A DIAGONAL LINE ON NEW FALL MODE

By Jean Patou

Paris.—Youthful, simple and essentially Parisian clothes—that is what I have endeavored to achieve in my new collection.

Fashions, during the last few months, have diverged a good deal from Parisian taste. For daytime wear, the attractive woman found herself reduced to altogether too realistic an athlete's suit and as far as evening wear was concerned, only one of two alternatives confronted her—dressing herself up in seraphim's wings or winding herself round in feathers.

My winter collection has been established on a totally different basis. I have not made the slightest attempt at decoration but have tried to achieve some sort of architecture.

The daytime silhouette remains unchanged except that skirt fronts are plain, with any fullness or pleats massed at the back. The part a skirt is called upon to play this winter, however, will be merely that of covering the legs without disguising them.

So far as evening styles are concerned, the skirt has evolved into a semblance of antique drapery. By means of highly studied cut the new skirt clings harmoniously to the figure, outlining and modeling the thighs, bestowing thus a touch of emotional beauty on every attitude.

This new evening line precludes any kind of girdle or belt, at any rate, for evening wear. In certain cases, however, special girdles have been provided to go with the dress. Nothing is so unaesthetic as the tight line produced by the old-style girdle, so often visible from the front and nearly always SMART and attractive for late summer and early fall is the ensemble worn by Jean Muir. The dress is brown and white crepe, diagonal striped, with three quarters length jacket to match.

In keeping with the feathered mode, Jean selects a beret which has two love birds in front. And her pumps, with large bows, are brown kid.

An interesting sleeve treatment and a softly bloused bodice are two fall fashion points featured in this Jean Patou model in turtle-dove grey crepe.

in the back. After all, a woman's body is not cylindrical, and to bind it with corset or girdle, especially under an evening dress, robs movement of its ease and line of its voluptuousness.

Colour does not play such an important part in a winter collection as in the spring. As an alternative to black, however, I have chosen a beautiful shade—"Wild Blackberry"—which offers all the advantages of black but is more luminous and has more fantasy. Another great point is that it is becoming to both blondes and brunettes.

For the evening there are some deep greens that will surely be popular and a few "nasturtium" shades.

Natural silks take precedence over artificial weaves. After all, with budgets as restricted as they are at present, nothing but the best quality fabrics can be used. Their resistance and wearing qualities are unequalled. Heavy marocains, "Patou crepe," a mixed silk and wool material called lozengs crepe figure largely in daytime frocks, with a good deal more brocades and metal lames for dinner and cocktail frocks.

Shining satin of the "Imperial" type still figures to a large extent in my evening dresses, as well as a dull satin in natural silk which has the mat surface of an artificial silk.

Besides the artificial velvets, I this will influence the fashion have used a good deal of straight trend of the latter part of 1933.

pile silk velvet, which is always unequalled in richness of aspect.

Daytime clothes display a generous amount of fur and beaver, mink, silver and blue fox, astrakhan, broadtail and skunk, which effects a timid re-entry. For evening wear there are all kinds of foxes—silver, black and blue, but used much more discreetly than in previous years.

All coats are very sober in line with any touch of originality concentrated on the sleeves and fur trimming.

Velvet and felt will be the favorite autumn mediums for hat, both handled like fabrics and turned and twisted in novel effects. Fur, flowers and fantasy trimmings will complete them.

Gloves are no important an accessory of woman's dress to-day that I have created several models, from the practical daytime glove to the fabric evening glove, some of them very eccentric and complementing the gown.

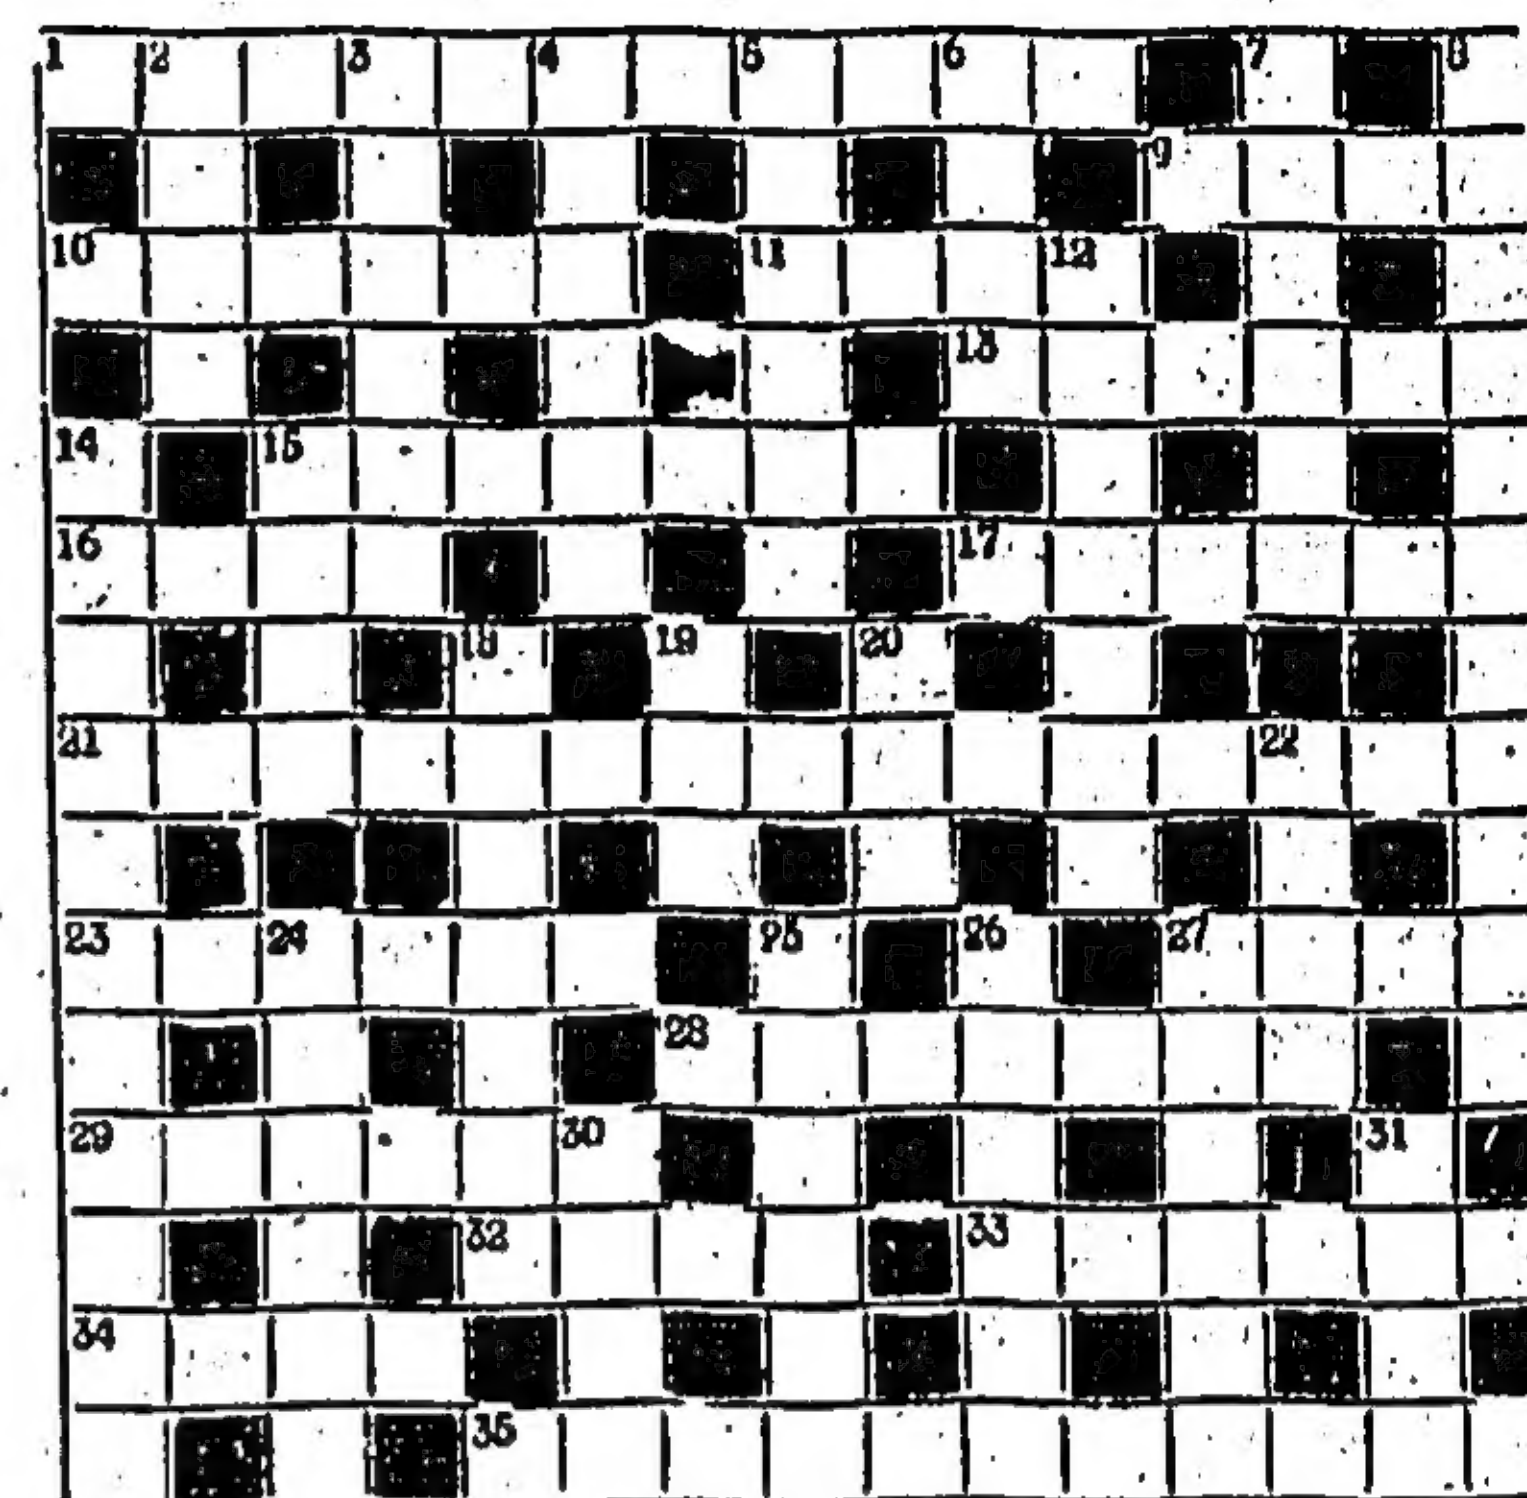

The general tone of my collection is essentially sober owing to the wide use of black and wild blackberry. Both are relieved, though, by touches of vivid colour or contrasts of dull and shiny surfaces.

Its indisputable originality lies in the evening skirt's totally new line and I believe and hope that

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XXIII

Though Dixy's store had been featuring new spring apparel since mid-winter, the approach of Easter brought new merchandise and new activity to almost every department. Even in the housewares, rugs and draperies a special effort was put forth to interest prospective Easter brides.

And although this meant added work in the advertising office, Eve, Ariene and Marya enjoyed it. Even Mona showed some enthusiasm when a consignment of especially smart new hats arrived—one-of-a-kind hats bearing the magic names of famous designers on their lining bands.

One morning a dozen of these hats were sent to the advertising office so that Marya might select several to sketch. Eve looked them over. She smothered an exclamation and hurried to the mirror to try on a tiny black and white sailor. Marya cried out, "It's lovely on you, Eve! Oh, that should make a grand sketch!"

Eve tilted the hat this way and that to find exactly the most becoming angle. Then she turned for Ariene to approve the result. The hat was close-fitting and made of black straw. Its brim, entirely covered with tiny white violets, was set on to give the effect of a halo about the face.

"What a love of a hat!" Ariene exclaimed. "And it's perfect on you, Eve. Just perfect!" "I do like it," agreed Eve. "It would be nice with that black wool crepe suit I had laid away for Easter."

She replaced the hat carefully in its tissue paper wrappings and returned it to its box.

The buzzer on Eve's desk sounded and she arose to answer Mr. Barnes's summons. They were in conference over the next day's layouts for a full hour and when Eve returned she found that the other girls had gone to lunch.

She slipped down to the main floor fountain and ordered a lettuce sandwich and a cup of tea. "Dick would think a lunch like this one perfectly terrible!" She told herself. "But I don't care. What I save on lunches I can invest."

The little hat with the white violets refused to leave her mind for more than an instant. She was glad it was safe in the advertising office. Her spirits were gay as she went to the French room of the millinery department on her way back to the office. "I'll make a deposit on that hat and have it laid away until pay-day," she thought. "What a difference a hat can make in a woman's life! A truly lovely model like that one would give anyone a new lease on life!"

But a moment later Miss Marchand, the hat buyer, was echoing, "The little model by Celeste—the one with the white violets? Oh, I'm sorry, Miss Bayless but that is already sold! The blond girl from your office—Miss Allen—bought it not half an hour ago."

Eve smothered her wrath as best she could and went back to the office. Mona had not yet returned but Ariene was at work transcribing notes.

She glanced up as Eve entered and then stopped typing. "My word!" she cried. "What's wrong now?"

Eve told her about the hat. "I might have guessed it!" Ariene moaned in sympathy with Eve. "When Mona saw that you wore it still in conference at lunch time there was a look on her face that should have warned me. You know—the smile of the cat that has not only eaten the canary but licked up all the cream as well!"

After the black and white sailor none of the new hats interested Eve and she did not select another until the Saturday before Easter when, without enthusiasm, she bought a black beret that she never cared for later. In the meantime, indignant though she was at Mona Allen, she had to forget this prejudice in the interest of her work. It seemed to Eve that she lived entirely for the future and foresight was her watchword.

Occasionally during these busy weeks Eve was obliged to work overtime. She would telephone Dick who usually arranged to meet her for a late dinner. Often he would drop in to see a five o'clock movie before coming to the store for her. Although he professed to get little pleasure from any of these movies, Eve resented the fact that he was being entertained while she worked. But when she was through at the office and met Dick, patiently waiting in the roadster at the side entrance, her resentment always left her and she snuggled by his side and lifted her eyes to his in a glad smile.

The Tuesday evening episodes still bothered Eve, however. Dick did not leave her every Tuesday but when he did go out alone it was always on that evening. What was he concealing from her? Why didn't he take her into his confidence? Once it occurred to her that she had never had an engagement with him on a Tuesday before their marriage. Now that she was Dick's wife wasn't she entitled to know everything that concerned him? There were times when she thought of following him but her sense of honour prevented her from doing that. She must bide her time she concluded. Still on the Tuesday when she had to work until eight o'clock and Dick did not meet her she was furious.

And then one day Marya paused beside Eve's desk and motioned to Ariene to join them. "I've been waiting all morning," she said, "to talk to you two alone. Ray and I have decided to be married the day after Easter! He's been wanting me to marry him for a long time but I wanted to wait until we had enough money saved to give us a good start."

It was Eve's turn to wish Marya happiness and she did so sincerely. Ariene pretended to go into a faint and then said, "But you wouldn't leave us, would you, Marya?"

"That's what I'm in doubt about," admitted Marya. "I would like to keep on working for a while but my mother and Ray say I shouldn't. Mother is old-fashioned, you know. She thinks I ought to stay at home and spend my time making veal stew with sour cream sauce and all the other dishes she's taught me. My mother's sweet, but she just won't see things the modern way."

"And she won't hear to anything but a regular church wedding with a reception and refreshments afterward, though I don't want her and my father to go to so much expense for me!"

Barnes rang for Marya just then and she hurried to his office.

"Well, that's certainly a surprise!" ejaculated Ariene. "Of course if there is anything I like better than a wedding it's two weddings. But I'd hate like anything to lose Marya from this office! I wonder whether they will live with his parents or with hers or take an apartment? That diamond Marya wears would set most men back at least three years' savings so I suppose they'll have to pinch pennies. Well, she's an angel and I adore her and Ray is a lucky man!"

Eve wanted to warn Marya against continuing her work at Dixy's after marriage. Marya was not the sort to spare herself. She would give to her home the same effort that a home-keeping wife does and also put in eight exhausting hours a day at the store. And to what end?

Eve's own experiment as a wage earning wife was not working out any too successfully. She suspected that Dick was learning to depend on others for the companionship she was often too tired or too busy to give him.

But she found it impossible to open this subject with Marya. It would be cruel to cloud the other girl's perfect happiness. And it would be a confession of Eve's failure also. So pride held her silent. Anyhow if she lost Dick she would still have her career. That would be something to live for and to give her courage to keep on.

But it would not be enough, her heart cried out.

INDIANS CHARGED.

FURTHER ADJOURNMENT IN LARCENY CASE

Another adjournment, after evidence, was made until Monday afternoon in the case in which four Indians, Wali Dad, Mohamed Ashraf, Sahib Dad and Sakander Khan, are being charged with larceny and receiving of $500 in Hongkong money, one ten rupee note and a brass bound box, valued at $45, and containing clothes valued at $150, the property of Sher Mohamed, from No. 10, Star Street, second floor on August 27. The fourth defendant is only up on the receiving charge.

Mr. Horace Lo is defending the first three defendants, and Mr. A. el Arculli the fourth defendant.

When the hearing was resumed yesterday afternoon before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistrate's Court, Sahib Dad the third defendant was cross-examined by Mr. Arculli.

Defendant reiterated that complainant had told him he could take the box if he found it. He did not tell fourth defendant that the complainant had asked him to take the box as security. He only told fourth defendant that the box belonged to a man who owed him $200. He did not tell fourth defendant he had authority to take the box away. He denied having told fourth defendant the box belonged to him, and asked him to keep it while he was away in India.

First Defendant.

The first defendant, Wali Dad, then entered the box, and said that he was at No. 10, Star Street, when the third defendant came in and told him that the complainant owed him $200, but had put him off on several occasions. Third defendant told him he was going to take the box as security, and requested him to take the box to Kowloon. Third defendant then got some coolies and left the premises, after giving him $5, and requesting him to take the box to fourth defendant's place. The second defendant came in at that time, and helped him to take the box to Kowloon.

In reply to Detective Sergeant Fitches, witness said that he had formerly been employed in the gaol, but was unemployed for the last month. He did not think there was anything wrong in third defendant's request to him to take the box to Kowloon, because third defendant said he would return the box to complainant when the

U.S. INFLATION PRESSURE

CONGRESSMEN WORRYING PRESIDENT

New York, Sept. 16. Evidence is daily accumulating to show that President Roosevelt has reached the most critical stage of his great experiment in national reorganization. Congressmen returning to Washington from their constituencies are pressing for an increase in the amount of cash in the pockets of the workers by inflation; whereas, leaders fear that heavy inflation would ruin the Democratic party.

For these reasons there is profound interest in the announcement of Senator Jones, respecting the new loan policy. This is looked upon as probably the last experiment to increase the liquidity of capital without inflation, and to tide over the period of the lag between rise in commodity prices and increases in costs, a situation which is engendering bitterness between capital and labour.

Projects within reach of the administration, like the abandonment of child labour and sweated wages and the fixing of shorter working hours, are jeopardised in this crisis.

Employers, on the one hand, resent the possible domination of affairs by the labour unions, and union workers, on the other hand, are demanding extravagant terms, on the ground that increased purchasing power means more prosperity.

Nevertheless, the question of currency dominates the White House at the present time, which, like the rest of the country, is anxiously watching the effect of the Jones gesture.—Reuter.

debt was settled. He admitted taking the box at the police station, but denied stealing it.

Mohamed Ashraf, the second defendant, said he only accompanied the first defendant to Kowloon. The coolies carried the box. His motive in accompanying the first defendant, was on the invitation of the first defendant. The first defendant told him the box belonged to the third defendant.

Replying to Sergeant Fitches, witness said that he had no idea the box belonged to the complainant, and the first defendant was lying when he told him it belonged to the third defendant.

Hearing was then adjourned to September 18 at 2.30 p.m.

Doctors Say

"Ambrosia is worthy of all praise"

MANY a mother has cause to thank Doctor for recommending Ambrosia. This pure Devonshire Milk Food supplies that extra nourishment that Baby must have when breast-feeding fails. Ambrosia is vitamin-rich Devonshire milk exclusively, purified, dried, and packed in Devonshire dairies all within a short time of milking. The important vitamins are retained, nothing is added, only water is taken away. By adding hot water to Ambrosia you have instantly, at any time, a supply of delicious, creamy Devonshire milk—fresher, many times purer and more easily digested than Grade "A" milk—and much less expensive, too.

Stocked by all good dealers.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

YESTERDAY'S MARKET EASY

According to Messrs. Swan Culbertson and Fritz, the New York market was easy yesterday. Business done 2,450,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal report on yesterday's market: After opening buoyantly the market declined sharply due to heavy selling for no tangible reason except perhaps on rumours that France may abandon the gold standard shortly. Otherwise all factors are bullish including weak U.S. dollar but foreign exchange fluctuated bafflingly with the dollar declining in terms of francs, the pound declining in terms of francs and gold, and the franc easing in terms of gold. Our New York Office Cable: (This morning)

Stocks: Floor traders are apparently more active than the public in selling. Reaction seems nearly completed. Wheat: Advancing exchange brought further buying for profit-taking. Buying also advised on all dips. Cotton: October liquidation and hedge selling curbed advance. The transfer of large amounts of credit from the R.F.C. and N.R.A. enterprises is the possible indication of postponement of any change at present of monetary policy. Silver: The market is nervous and erratic and closed easier. Our New York Office Cable: (Last night)

Stocks: Responding to fresh weakness in the U.S. dollar and further inflation talk the market looks higher. Wheat: Liverpool strong. Sterling considered. Millers bought liberally. Cash tightening. Winnipeg weakness is discouraging. Longs. Still favour buying side. Cotton: Advance in francs and sterling and continued inflation agitation caused strength. Trade houses are sellers and main buying is professional. Cable received during our Night Service last night.

AND REAPING

Dean Inge on a Grim
Time Ahead

London, Aug. 20.

Dean Inge, preaching last night in the church of St. Mary's, Wootton, Oxon, where he is taking holiday duties, on the text "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy," said: "The law of sowing and reaping has been fully exemplified in the world crisis through which we are now passing. All injustice eventually comes home to roost."

"If we delved enough into the cause of German militarism we should find that the roots sprang from the Moscow campaign of 1812, when hosts of Germans were forcibly enlisted in Napoleon's army."

"I had hopes that a great outburst of intellectual and spiritual activity would, follow the Great War such as marked the aftermath of the defeat of the Spanish Armada and the overthrow of Napoleon."

THE NEXT GENERATION.

"Nothing of the kind has yet happened, and the next generation will probably be a time of sowing rather than of reaping. A grim time still lies ahead of us, which will test our character equally as much as the Great War did."

"We have greatly neglected our spiritual and intellectual heritage, and it is imperative that we work out reforms in education to place the greatest treasures of civilisation within the reach of all who appreciate them."

"In the future almost everyone will have increased leisure at their command, and training for leisure will have to be regarded as of equal importance as training for work."

"The next 30 years will be a time for recuperation, and we must keep our eyes fixed not only on the immediate future, but on the generations that follow us."

YEAST-VITE

Brand Tonic Tablets

The great value of "Yeast-Vite" as an ALL-ROUND remedy—even for those whose health is completely broken down—is fully evidenced by the remarkable letter below.

Gentlemen,—I feel I must write my thanks to you. I had until recently the following troubles:—

- (1) Severe Headaches.
- (2) Indigestion; Pains, Sick-ness.
- (3) Bad Sleep.
- (4) Bad Nerves.

I have now taken three bottles of your "Yeast-Vite" Tablets and the result is wonderful.

- (1) No more throbbing headaches.
- (2) Indigestion, thank goodness, has gone, and the terrible pains.
- (3) Sleep more refreshing and sound.
- (4) Nerves are sound, and I walk with a care-free step.

I am writing this in honest thankfulness for restored health. I still have a few "Yeast-Vite" Tablets, and in our firm if any of my fellow employees are feeling below par, or if the lady assistants have a headache, I give them "Yeast-Vite," and am only too glad to relieve their suffering. Yours sincerely and gratefully, F. L. East Ham.

To YOU, who perhaps have suffered for so long that you have despaired of ever being well again, the above letter must seem extraordinary. Yet WE who are constantly receiving similar tributes KNOW that "Yeast-Vite" is REGULARLY performing such amazing Health Wonders. Why therefore continue to suffer? If you cannot get Yeast-Vite from your usual Chemist—and nearly all in Hong Kong stock it—write to or call on

The 1933 Buick is notable for many new and improved features, especially designed to make driving easier, more convenient, more automatic. Here are some:

- (1) Package compartment on right of instrument board gives ample space for carrying personal papers, small parcels, etc. Lock operates by car key.
- (2) New clamp for tools under the seat keeps them in place, and prevents them from sliding or rattling. The battery is now located under the front seat making it more accessible.
- (3) New single, centre hood handle, conveniently located, simplifies lifting and locking of the hood.
- (4) New-type push button control for door locks permits convenient locking of all doors from the inside of the car. Front seat adjustment lever is now more conveniently placed in front and centre of seat.
- (5) One key operates all locks.
- (6) New two-piece front compartment floor mat. Floor section can be removed without disturbing upper section.
- (7) Improved bracket construction of the larger sunshade permits shading from both front and side.
- (8) New softer rubber gear-shift lever ball provides easier, firmer grip.
- (9) Attractive, round cornered, rear view mirror.
- (10) Man-size ash receptacle, that can be removed easily for cleaning, and cigar lighter are conveniently located in the center of the instrument board.

AIRMEN BUILD TOWN

IN MIDST OF PRIMEVAL FOREST

A new town is growing up on the island of New Guinea, in the centre of the newly-discovered gold-mining region; and the remarkable thing about it is that it owes its existence exclusively to aircraft. Everything required, including even heavy machinery, is carried to the spot by a few aeroplanes manufactured by the German Junkers works. This is the first time that aircraft has been resorted to in connection with the building-up of a new town.

The British colonial air line to and on New Guinea is of particular importance just now. Since the war one half of the huge island belongs to Great Britain, whilst the other half is—and always has been—a Dutch possession.

Prior to 1927 the importance of the country was but slight; but all this was altered after the discovery, in that year, of large deposits of gold near the native village of Bulalo in the Wau district, about 40 miles from the Huon Gulf. Owing to the dense tropical forest, several high mountain ranges and a number of difficult rivers it is next to impossible to reach Bulalo in the ordinary way. To do so on foot would require weeks and would involve innumerable hardships; and the construction of a railway line would prove too costly an investment.

WOODEN MACHINES.

Aircraft alone was considered suitable to overcome the existing difficulties. An aviation company, "New Guinea Airways Ltd.," was set up, for the purpose of establishing a connection between the coast and the Bulalo gold-mining region. At first wooden machines, of British and American origin, were used; but they were found unsuitable. The wood was literally eaten up by the tropical climate. It was then decided to employ Junkers all-metal machines; and the success achieved with them has been most striking. The Junkers machines are capable of resisting the effects of the tropical climate and of coping with the landing and starting difficulties in the heart of the jungle. Within eighteen months they have accomplished a task which is probably unique in history, completed a task which is probably unique in history. Cement, building stones, tools, auxiliary engines, electric plants, whole packing cases full of nails, screws, clamps, etc., have already been transported by them in huge quantities. It was perhaps their principal achievement when they succeeded in carrying to Bulalo all the parts of a complete water power station. This station—which has a capacity of 4,000 kw—is sufficient to satisfy the present needs of the forest town. All the necessary caterpillar tractors, motor lorries, steam engines, mechanical sawmills and melting furnaces were sent to Bulalo by the same method and their erection was looked after by expert engineers.

HUNDREDS OF FLIGHTS.

The statistics recently published by the New Guinea administration show the extent of the work accomplished by the three aeroplanes. The first of them has made 418 and the second 462 flights, whilst the third—mostly engaged in flying to and from the adjacent village of Wau—made 287 flights, carrying 900 tons of merchandise. Altogether, the three machines have transported 4,000 tons of machinery and mechanical requisites. The conditions of operation are exceedingly unfavourable. The flying grounds are small. Many of them are on marshy ground and surrounded by dense masses of shrubs which have to be cut down at intervals of a few days. Native helpers are not available except to a very limited extent. The population of Bulalo (about 2,000) exclusively consists of Europeans working in the gold mines. The exploitation of the mines has made but little progress so far, owing to the enormous difficulties; but Bulalo itself has developed into a modern town replete with modern comfort, and it is certain that it will soon play an important part in the economic life of the huge island.

'ASPRO'

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEART & HEALTH

FALSE ECONOMY with medicine purchasing is a delusion. It is risky, unsafe, perilous and critical. In the interests of health it is essential to shun impure acetyl salicylic acid preparations. As is well known to medical science, free salicylic acid has an adverse effect on the heart—causes digestive troubles—and other disorders. 'ASPRO' has fulfilled all claims made for it. It is pure, safe, sure and gives certain relief to sufferers and conforms with the standards laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia, the guiding authority of the medical profession.

Read the fifteen principal uses of 'ASPRO' listed below. The reason why such definite claims are made for 'ASPRO' is because 'ASPRO' is both a powerful germicide and an internal antiseptic, and, after ingestion in the system, it is anti-pyretic, anti-periodic, anti-fermentative, antiseptic and a solvent of Uric Acid. Don't endanger your health with impure medicines. 'ASPRO' does not harm the heart nor have any injurious after-effects. Therefore avoid risk by insisting on 'ASPRO.'

For Over 15 Years—The World's Master Medicine

5 MINUTES

FOR RELIEF WITH 'ASPRO'

There is nothing indefinite about 'ASPRO'. Its service is QUICK, safe, effective and definite. It gives you relief in 5 to 10 minutes and then goes on to dispel or dissolve the cause of the pain, allowing Nature to effect its own cure. Furthermore, you get no harmful after-effects from 'ASPRO', as it is speedily eliminated from the system a few hours after being taken. It neither dopes, deadens nor drugs.

You leave home as "fit as a fiddle" but never know the moment when fate will prove unkind in the form of a headache—neuralgia or nerve pains, or maybe it will be a rheumatic attack. The slightest derangement of your nervous system may make you feel "nervy" or irritable. The sight of an accident may upset you for the day. In crowds germ contamination may place you in the quick grip of a cold or influenza. The best protection for such emergency is to make certain that you put a few 'ASPRO' Tablets in your pocket or purse BEFORE YOU LEAVE HOME.

DODWELL & CO., LTD.

DISTRIBUTORS

Three Packings: 5's, 10's and 27's.

What 'Aspro' Does;

- 1 It Stops Violent Headaches in 5 to 10 minutes.
- 2 It Brings Sweet Sleep to the Sleepless.
- 3 It Relieves Rheumatism in one night.
- 4 It Relieves Children's Growing Pains.
- 5 It Saves many a Sound Tooth by Removing Toothache.
- 6 It Brings Relief without causing sickness, indigestion or a craving.
- 7 It Stops Pain without harming the Heart.
- 8 It soothes away Irritability.
- 9 A hot lemon drink with 2 or 3 'ASPRO' Tablets will smash up a Cold or 'Flu' attack in one night.
- 10 It Reduces Temperature in 5 minutes.
- 11 It can be taken at any time, in Tram, Train, at Home, at Business—anywhere—anytime.
- 12 It gives the greatest relief ever known to women at their times of periodical depression.
- 13 It Stops the Ill After-Effects of Alcohol.
- 14 It Relieves Dengue and Malaria by reducing the fever.
- 15 As a Gargle, 'ASPRO' is wonderful for Sore Throats, Tonsillitis, etc.

FIRST AID For MOTHERS

Most children are subject to Toothache, Earache, Colds and sudden bursts of Temperature. 'ASPRO' can be safely given to children so affected. It will soothe the pain away and quickly reduce Temperature.

HOW TO GIVE 'ASPRO' TO CHILDREN

Two simple methods of giving 'ASPRO' to the kiddies are: (a) with a little milk; or (b) break the tablet up and administer in a teaspoonful of jam. The dosage is: Children 3 to 6 years, 1/2 tablet; 6 to 14 years, 1 tablet; 14 to 16 years, 1 1/2 tablets. 'ASPRO' like any other medicine should not be given to babies under 3 years of age without medical advice.

'ASPRO' is Woman's Best Friend

Possibly the greatest users of 'ASPRO' are women, for whom 'ASPRO' has a special charm on account of the varied periodical experiences with which all women are familiar. They surely know just what a wonderful soother and pain dispeller 'ASPRO' is. Millions of women throughout the World now regularly take 'ASPRO'—the safe, sure and effective medicine, to relieve their pain and accompanying physical depression, who before had to resort to dangerous drugs, narcotics or opiates. The understanding woman uses 'ASPRO'.

SPEED RECORDS

Three years ago, Britain held every speed record that was worth while on land, water, or in the air. To-day, there remains to us only one, the land speed record established and re-established by Sir Malcolm Campbell. It is not surprising therefore that there should be some disappointment at the Government's decision that, for the time being at any rate, Great Britain will not attempt to regain the world's air speed record which she lost to Italy when Warrant Officer Agello flew over Lake Garda in the spring of this year at a speed of 423.76 miles an hour. On land and water Great Britain is still one of the fastest-moving nations; she holds the records for the world's speediest trains. Her water records are only just short of America's. In these circumstances many Englishmen would naturally like to see her obtain the principal speed record that she does not possess. But for the immediate future the decision of Lord Londonderry, Secretary of State for Air, is final. Lord Londonderry has several strong reasons to support his action. The cost of preparing to regain the record would amount to something like £200,000—a very considerable sum of money at a time of national economy. It would also divert attention from the normal training activities of the Royal Air Force. In answer to the argument that a speed victory would so increase the prestige of British engines and aeroplanes that the commercial harvest would be well worth the initial cost, Lord Londonderry observes that after the last two Schneider Trophy race victories British exports in these lines actually declined. But the chief reason at the back of the Government's action is the apprehension of further loss of human life. Four men already have been killed in training for the Schneider race in England; and Italy has had to pay a similar price for her victory. There is little sixty of public opinion on the speed question, as it forms a part of aerial progress. The world grows recklessly enthusiastic when a flight is successfully accomplished, and unreasonably panic stricken if a great flying enterprise fails. Progress in flying should be based on firmer ground than this. That progress must and will go on no one can doubt. But progress is most successfully achieved when it is most wisely prepared for. When further research has been made into the conditions of flying and the capacity of aeroplanes, on a scale beyond the resources of private firms, but well within the abilities of governments, then, as Lord Londonderry hinted, Great Britain will probably not be slow in attempting to better even Warrant Officer Agello's splendid achievement.

NOTES OF THE DAY

NAVY DAY

The programme is out for Hongkong's Navy Day and quite evidently it is destined to be an occasion. In one afternoon, the Navy will endeavour to squeeze all the events which are spread through a Week in Home ports; through a Week in Home ports, the small wonder that it has been considered desirable to leave Trafalgar Day to itself and to hold Navy Day on the following Saturday. Persistence in the original intention to combine the two would have left the Silent Service with a contingent of nervous wrecks!

APOLOGIES?

If there had been any tendency to lack of enthusiasm in civilian circles, the announcement of the Navy's plans will give rise to mental apologies. Quite clearly, the venture has not been embarked upon lightly, and having decided to undertake a task demanding a great deal of time and organisation, the local authorities intend to do the Colony proud. If we may be permitted the expression, the charge for admission will serve a double purpose, both of which commend themselves, namely, removing the possibility of the appearance of the confusion of humanity which spoils the Empire Fair and rendering aid to highly deserving charitable objects. We feel it would be superfluous to urge the community to make the effort worth while. The difficulty is more likely to be that of keeping the crush in reasonable control.

THE CHEERO CLUB

Some part of the proceeds of the Trafalgar and Navy Day activities will be donated to the new Cheero Club building fund, a cause well in keeping with the spirit which actuated the sponsors of the naval display. The value of such institutions as the Cheero Club cannot be over-estimated and it has been sadly missed not only by the Services but also by those in other walks of life who found real and genuine pleasure in services rendered. When the new building arises from the ruins of Bonaparte's Arcade, however, there will be no regrets about the disappearance of the Old Club, which, frankly, served a highly useful purpose without making any claim to offer ideal surroundings. In retrospect, the organisers of the Cheero will be able to regard the condemnation of the City Hall premises as the best thing that could have happened. A need was met, that at least can be said; but the circumstances which compelled a search and a striving for better things will not be regarded, in the last analysis, as altogether a mishap. The new project is well conceived and, we feel sure, will be pushed on with all possible speed. But it needs money. Need any more be said.

INDUSTRIAL FEUDALISM

Feudalism in American industry is fighting a stubborn rear-guard action in the dealings of the coal industry with the National Recovery Administration. The spectacle of a number of employers walking out of a conference room in protest at the presence of the president of the American Federation of Labour is but an incident in the struggle. The larger issue is the recognition of Labour's right to bargain for itself in the new national economy. And the still larger and paramount issue is recognition of the fact that there has got to be a broader spirit of fair play, tolerance and cooperation if the problem of Capital-and-Labour relations are ever to be solved. The remedy for the bitter conditions in coal centres, as for men's economic difficulties generally, is in the application of common Christian ethics. It is not only currency problems which are causing the recovery drive to lag.

THE MAIN ISSUE

Unionism or non-unionism in the mines is incidental to the main point. Organisation of the operators into coal associations bespeaks the right of workers to organise over an equal scope rather than be limited to dummy unions under industrial espionage. If coal managements show themselves hidebound to the idea that they must keep their Labour in a kind of industrial serfdom of low wages and long hours enforced through the machinations of company police, company houses, company stores and the like, they need not be surprised if they find themselves heartily disapproved by the sentiment of the United States at large. They are not dealing in the recovery programme merely with Labour, organised or unorganised. The Great Experiment is seriously threatened as it is. It cannot hope to succeed until industry ceases to look upon the workers as the pressing of selfish advantage.

AN ECONOMIC PLAN

By E. L. ALLEN

THE idea of a national plan, scouted a few years ago, has come in of late for considerable popularity. With Russia as its sole advocate, it was looked on with suspicion, but now that something rather like the conversion to it of the United States has taken place, its respectability cannot any longer be denied. And, if a general election were shortly to occur in England, there can be little doubt that all three parties would produce at least some candidates whose programmes would offer the outlines of a national plan.

Not that all doubts on the subject have been removed. Economic planning was accepted in Russia under dire stress of revolution, blockade, and famine, but it is not wanted elsewhere as the child of such conditions. We might submit to much under constraint of hunger, even to forced labour and shopping queues: ordinarily, though, we should rebel against wholesale compulsion and regimentation.

But would a plan be possible without these accompaniments? Again, it is possible that capitalism is guilty of many abuses and that its present position is precarious in the extreme. But would the ills involved in changing over to something different be more objectionable than those which would lie in making the best of what we have? We might be willing to entertain economic planning if its two doubtful companions, revolution and dictatorship, did not appear to demand accommodation at the same time!

FEASIBLE PLAN.

A Viennese economist, Prof. Walter Schiff, has set himself to dispel these anxieties, and to show that a large-scale plan which would eliminate crises and unemployment and yet leave us with democracy and individual liberty, is quite feasible. To be sure, he does not urge that Austria should make the experiment; he looks to a larger arena than hers for a beginning. Nor does he disguise his conviction that such a scheme would require a Socialist administration with so clear a mandate for change that the vested interests would be unable to block its attempt to write its election programme into the statute-book.

The first step, of course, would be the socialisation of essential services, particularly of the banking system. The State would not take over the whole of industry, it would willingly leave a fairly large field to private enterprise. If the State can exercise control when necessary, it does not need to manage everything, and it would fail if it tried to do so. In the private sector, business would go on much as to-day, and savings could be invested in it and dividends drawn from it. But there would be no room for payment of interest in the socialised sector: capital there would belong to the community, and this would not charge itself for the use of its own property!

CALCULATION OF AVERAGES.

As regards the individual, he would be free to seek work and spend his income as he wished—at least, he would be free to do so as he is now. The State would enlist and direct labour as industry needed it by propaganda (just as advertisements are used to-day), and by the offer of varying wages and other inducements. For inequality of reward would remain under the plan as before, the difference being in the basis of such inequality. Whereas now it is a natural or artificial shortage in supply which enables certain occupations to demand more, then rates of payment would be determined by the importance of the contribution which a man's work made to society in the carrying out of its plan. The social value of work would fix the price to be paid for it.

Here a problem arises. The advantage of a national plan is that it makes it possible to forecast demand and to see that neither too much nor too little is produced, thus avoiding booms and depressions alike. But how can you plan ahead if each consumer is to be free to buy as he wants to do? The answer is simple. A calculation of averages is what is required. A caterer does not know what a given child is going to eat at a Sunday-school treat, but experience enables him to know pretty accurately what to provide for 500 children, so as to have neither waste nor shortage. In the same way, we should be able to tell beforehand what a population of 50,000,000 will need in a year in the way of certain staple articles, and trust that individual differences in demand will cancel out. In addition, those goods for which demand would be most variable would naturally be handled by private enterprise, which would continue to make profits in return for its acceptance of risks.

VAST ACCOUNTING WORK.

When it is known what will be needed by the people, it should be possible to calculate how much labour will be required to produce it, and what wages and salaries should be paid to enable the community, as consumer, to buy what it has manufactured, as producer. Provision would, of course, be made for social services and the need for fresh capital investment.

All this would call for a vast amount of accounting work, but probably not more than to-day, when it has to be decided, for example, how many pins can be put in a 10 cent packet to show a profit! And the plan would not be as fixed and precise as the Russian one claims to be. Rather would it be highly flexible and subject to constant revision, because its aim would be to supply the wants of a democratic community.

M.C.L. GALA DAY

FUN OF THE FAIR AT REPULSE BAY

With fine weather and a low tide the Ministering Children's League Beach Gala which is to be held on Wednesday next promises to be an outstanding show.

The children are of course to be specially catered for with sand-castle competitions, swimming races, chutes, Aunt Sallies, a fish-pond and a troupe of nigger minstrels. Another side show which is always popular is the "lucky dip" and in it hundreds of toys specially sent from London are to be hidden. The toy stall will be well worth a visit, as there will be found a galaxy of unusual gifts for the kiddies at Christmas. There will be jigsaw puzzles which would be a joy for invalid friends. Why not buy one at the gala for a hospital and thus do two good turns in one act? Then there are to be dolls of real fascination for the girls, books of adventure for the boys, games of all kinds and paint boxes de luxe.

The hoop-la stall will be a great attraction with its rings which never want to fall flat on the board or where the thrower wants them to fall, except if he or she be expert at the game.

A small kiosk is to be erected by the Dairy Farm Company for the sale of delicious ice-cream cones, and in this connexion the M.C.L. funds will benefit by a very generous discount. The Repulse Bay Hotel management will also arrange the tea and cold drinks on the same generous lines.

For the event the bus company are assisting by running a special service from Blake Pier from 1.30 p.m. until 3 p.m. and gala ticket holders are to be carried on these special trips at cheap rates.

The pyjama parade, which was such an attractive and popular item on the programme last year, is included this year and will be well worth seeing. Special prizes are to be offered.

It should be noted that the gala is entirely an open-air affair and tea will be served buffet style and not in a marquee as was erroneously stated the other day.

By the kind cooperation of Messrs. Kayamally and the Anderson Music Company tickets are on sale at their stores.

Selections will be played during the afternoon by the dance band of the 1st Battalion South Wales Borderers, (by kind permission of Lieut. Col. G. T. Raikes and officers).

At 6 p.m. the prizes will be presented by Lady Peel.

The programme of events is as follows:—

30 yards, boys, 13—15 years handicap for each year, 2 secs.

30 yards, girls, 13—15 years handicap for each year, 2 secs.

Raft to shore, boys, 16 and over, handicap for each year 3 secs. up to 18 years.

Paddling on Boards 25 yards boys and girls, 10—13.

Paddling on Boards 25 yards boys and girls, 14—18.

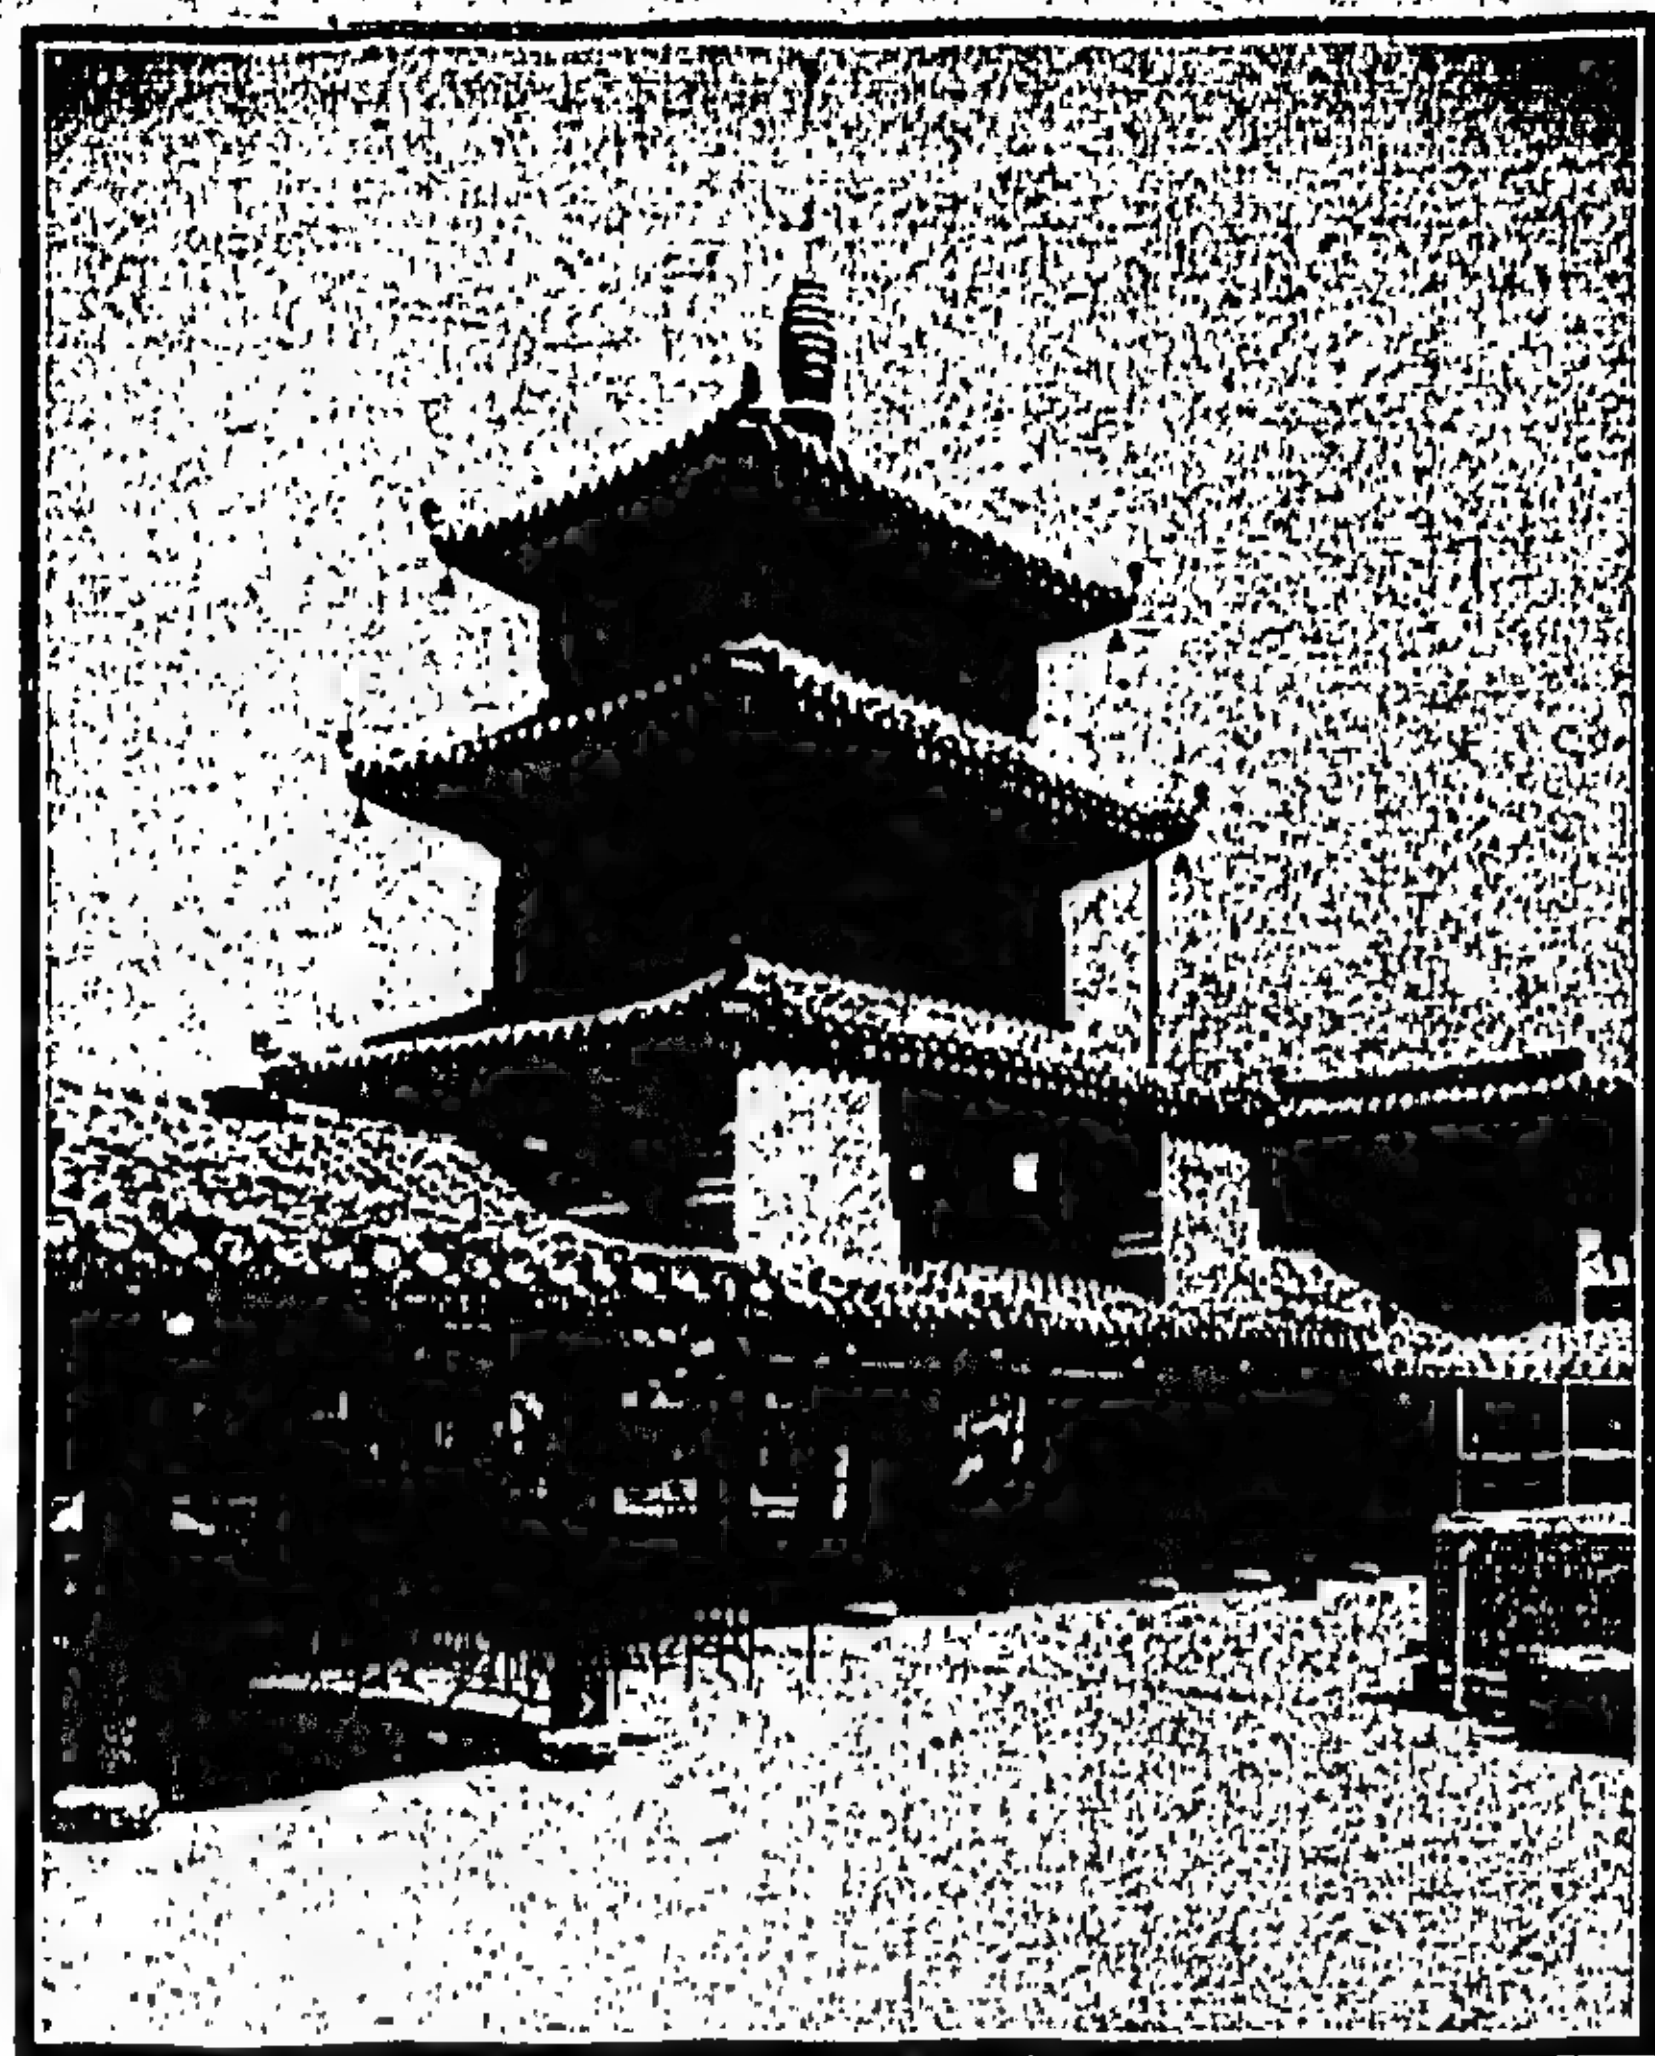

The Sand Castle Building Competitions will take place from 3.30 p.m. to 4.30 and are open to Children under 10. There will be two classes, for children under 6 and for children over 6.

There will be two classes in the Pyjama and 1933 Beach Wren Parade at 5.30 p.m., for children from 6 to 14 years and 15 years and over.

A Mega's Relay Race will be held at 5.00 p.m. Teams of 6 are entered from various M. C. L. Branches.

DICTATORSHIP

CUBAN GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES POLICY

Havana, Sept. 15. The Government under Dr. San Martin has announced its policy, promising a virtual dictatorship. It states bluntly that individual rights are to be made secondary to what the Government considers the nation's good.

Meantime, the guard around the Hotel Nacional, where the Cospedes loyalists are still holding out, has been restored and increased, and machine guns trained on the building from all sides.

Police reserves have been armed in readiness, owing to rumours of dissension in the army.

It is understood from Santiago de Chile that the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, has assured representatives of Latin-America that the United States will not intervene in Cuba, even if United States citizens or property are harmed.—Reuter.

ANOTHER WARSHIP.

United States Plans Further Precautions.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15. Another powerful battleship, the U.S. New Mexico, just reconditioned, may proceed to Guantanamo, Cuba, on her trial trip, owing to the seriousness of the situation there.

The battleship has been almost entirely rebuilt at a cost of many thousands of dollars, and 10,000 tons of armour superstructure have been added. Yet her buoyancy is maintained by "floaters" on her sides, forming an outer shell which serves as protection against torpedoes as well.—Reuter.

A SCIENTIFIC CLASH

IS THE UNIVERSE
EXPANDING?

FAMOUS RIVALS TO DEBATE

There will inevitably be a sharp conflict of opinion between three of the world's greatest mathematical astronomers at this year's meeting of the British Association.

They will air their rival views on the "expandingness" or otherwise of the universe, and of the end to which it is moving. The chief contenders will be:

Fabbe Lemaitre, the famous Belgian astronomer, who started the whole trouble by his discovery that the universe as designed by Einstein was unstable. He will travel specially from Belgium to take part in the controversy;

Sir Arthur Eddington, who believes that he has discovered a clue to why the universe is expanding at the particular rate which it now appears to be doing; and Professor E. A. Milne, of Oxford University, who will argue that the whole idea of the expanding universe, as Sir Arthur and Fabbe Lemaitre conceive it, is all wrong, and that "space before Einstein" is quite good enough for even a mathematical astronomer. This will be the first occasion that Professor Milne has taken part in a public discussion of his latest theory.

FLIGHT INTO SPACE.

Supporters of the expanding universe theory maintain that the whole frame-work of space, is expanding with ever-increasing speed, and that that is why astronomers' instruments show the most distant parts of the universe as if they were running away from us at speeds of almost fabulous magnitude.

Professor Milne, with a plea for a "common sense" view, claims to have proved that the material bodies of the universe would in any case inevitably scatter, just as a swarm of mosquitoes, flying at random and with no particular liking for each other's company, would be expected to spread out.

Interest in this view has even reached the stage when another scientist, Dr. W. H. McCrea, of London University (formerly of Trinity College, Cambridge), has entered the lists with a contribution on the relation of Milne's theory to general relativity.

The programme as a whole covers practically every field of scientific interest, from the presidential address of Sir F. Gowland Hopkins, on "Some Chemical Aspects of Life," to an address by Sir Gilbert Walker, in which he will discuss the achievements and possibilities of long-range weather forecasting.

Cambridge atom-splitting is to be awarded a complete discussion, to be introduced by Lord Rutherford, but although it is known that considerable further progress has been achieved, it is not expected that any sensational announcement will be made.

The contribution of another Cambridge scientist awaited with particular interest is that of Dr.

J. Gray, of King's College, who will deliver a challenging address on the mechanical view of life.

HEREDITY.

Also in the field of biology, Professor Julian Huxley will introduce a discussion on the mechanism of heredity. Recent discoveries as to the effect of X-rays, through "germ cells," on the next generation.

Before the Association's Department of Forestry, Major the Hon. Richard Coke will outline a system of forestry for this country. He will emphasise the need for a closer return to Nature's methods, one result of which would be to remedy in part the serious shortage of oak, to which attention was recently called in the Morning Post.

A discussion of great practical importance on milk production and distribution in relation to nutrition and disease will be held by the section of agriculture, and before the zoologists, Mr. M. A. C. Hinton, of the Natural History Museum, will argue that the Shropshire musk rat is still a serious problem.

There will be many contributions on economic subjects, including a presidential address on the gold standard, while a Yorkshire engineer, Mr. Walter Maughan, will advocate the construction of three great canals across Britain, each large enough to allow the passage of big liners, as a way of relieving unemployment.

Among the evening discourse a lively address is expected from Sir Josiah Stamp, who will pose the question, "Must Science ruin economic progress?"

It was a moment of genuine suspense for passengers aboard the Alaskan steamer Northwestern when, a half dozen at a time, they were lowered into lifeboats as shown here after the vessel struck a rock near Juneau and was beached on Eagle river seabed. One hundred passengers and members of the crew were lowered without mishap.

CENTURIAN CUTS A TOOTH

WOMAN STARTLES DOCTORS

Lisbon.

A woman aged 108 has startled doctors here by cutting a tooth. She has been toothless for half a century.

Her name is Rosa Carneira, and she lives in the same house as Josefa Baptista, who is 118 years old.

Josefa's parents were both centenarians, and one of her uncles reached the age of 121.—Reuter.

3 Stages of a COLD!

And Relief Is For Easier in the First Than in the Second or Third.

A cold ordinarily progresses through three stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is when treatment is most effective.

To stop a cold in the first stage, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It does the four things necessary. Opens the bowels, kills the germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Anything less than that is trifling with a cold. All chemist shops sell Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Be sure you get that and nothing else. Cellophane-wrapped box.

KOWLOON FOOTBALL "CAPTURES"

ELLIOTT OF CHATHAM

KENT LEAGUE PLAYER

SUCCESSOR FOUND TO MCKELVIE

JONES-TIENTSIN INTERPORTER

(By "Veritas")

Like Brer Rabbit, the Kowloon Football Club has been lying low during the close season, and quietly gone about the task of team building for the now fast approaching football season.

The first results will be visible to the public this afternoon, when the club has its first official trial match against the Club de Recreo.

And frankly I think numbers of Kowloon Club supporters will get a surprise; albeit a pleasant one.

REAL CAPTURES. The use of the term "capture" to new signatures has now become so common in use that it is very often invidiously applied. But Kowloon can claim to some real captures this year; new players of reputation and undoubted skill.

Prominent among them is Elliott, who recently arrived in the Colony to take up duties at the Naval Dockyard.

He is a former member of the Chatham Kent League team, and his experience in this grade of football is bound to put him in the first flights of local soccer.

Last year Kent League football was raised to a standard higher than ever attained before, and in the eyes of competent judges was regarded as equal to that of the Southern League.

Chatham have always figured among the leading clubs of the League, and last winter joined Folkestone Margate and Tunbridge Wells Rangers in a thrilling struggle to depose Northfleet from the championship.

Elliott therefore comes to local football, with his spurs well and truly won, and once he has adapted himself to the peculiarities of condition here, such as the hot weather, hard grounds, and the type of football played, should prove one of the Colony's leading centre-forwards.

TIENTSIN INTERPORTER. McKelvie serves his long and valuable service with the senior team this year, and is to be succeeded in the pivotal position by Jones, a former Tientsin Interporter. Jones comes with excellent credentials and has already shown great promise in practice games.

This afternoon will also see a new goalkeeper on view. He is Cord, of the Royal Corps of Signals, and it is reputed that he is likely to become one of the best custodians Kowloon has ever had.

Another newcomer to the forward line is V. White, who is playing at inside right, and it is interesting to note that he is every prospect of Timberlake returning to the side.

Two or three years ago he was a prolific scorer for Kowloon, and his presence in the forward line would do much to strengthening this into a formidable department.

OLD PLAYERS RETAINED. The majority of last year's players have been retained, the notable exception being Bickford, who has migrated to the Hongkong Football Club.

But Sonny Bliss will occupy his customary position at left half, Blake is on the left wing, Hills goes out to the right wing, and Webb continues at inside left.

I shall give a special description of the match and a review of the players in Monday's issue of the Telegraph.

500-MILE SPEEDWAY RACING RULES

Indianapolis, Ind.

Despite opposition that arose at the last 500-mile automobile race at the Speedway here, there probably will be no change in the rule permitting only a 16-gallon fuel tank on racing cars, officials have indicated.

The most important change likely to be adopted is a rule limiting the number of starters to 33, and creation of a committee to pass upon the qualifications of the drivers. Forty-two cars started last May, and officials believe the excess traffic was responsible for the large number of fatalities.

HADLEY'S NEW RECORD

LOWERS SHANGHAI Y.M. FIGURES

FOR 50 YARDS

Taking the lead from the start and maintaining a powerful stroke, Frank Hadley furthered his already long list of aquatic triumphs last Saturday night when he won the 50 yards free style in record time, clocking 15 of a second less than the new mark he himself established in the heats on Wednesday.

A fair sized crowd turned out to see the five championships run off and they were rewarded with some excellent swimming.

The 50 yards free style championship brought about the most exciting race of the evening, five swimmers churning up the water and out of the swirl of foam, Frank Hadley emerged to break yet another record when he covered the distance in 25 1-5 seconds.

Hadley got away from the start and turned for the second lap before the others, with Brown following close on his heels. Behind Brown, Hammond came up with a great turn of speed and these two fought out another race for second position pride of place going to Brown on this occasion. Grilk was a bare second behind Brown and Hammond while Fingereth followed in behind.

BOY'S 5 WICKETS FOR 18 RUNS

FOR MIDDLESEX AGAINST DERBY

DREAM REALISED

A schoolboy's cricket dreams came true recently when P. F. Judge, of St. Paul's West Kensington, playing for Middlesex, took 5 Derbyshire wickets for 18 runs before luncheon at Lord's. His final analysis was 5 for 27.

Judge, who is 17, was playing for the first time at Lord's. Here, as a small boy, he used to chase those Middlesex heroes F. T. Mann, Patsy Hendren, Jack Hoare, and Jack Durston while wistfully wondering if he would ever share in their triumphs.

A fast-medium bowler, he was born at Crickwood, N.W., and first began to take up cricket seriously when 11 years old. His father then took him to Jack Durston's indoor school in West London.

In his frank, enthusiastic way Judge said to a reporter: "All I have achieved is due to Durston." In his first county match—against Surrey at the Oval last week-end—Judge took five wickets for 77 in the first innings and four for 62 in the second, including those of Hobbs and Fender.

He was very modest about his success. "The wicket was a fast bowler's paradise," he said, "wet on top and flint-hard under the surface."

"I hope to play regularly for Middlesex next season. I shall go back to St. Paul's for another year."

INTERPORT SWIMMERS LEAVE

GOOD TEAM SENT TO KOBE

SUCCESSFUL VISIT ANTICIPATED

HADLEY THE KEY MAN

The Shanghai Interport swimming team which left on Wednesday for Kobe to participate in the triangular meet there against representatives from Yokohama and that port may be considered one of the strongest that Shanghai has ever had.

Records have gone by the board with amazing regularity this season and with the advent of several young swimmers notably Frank Hadley, Archie Logan and Noel Hammond, things are looking up in the swimming world there.

The Interport team is all set now for their meeting with Kobe. Those who will be making the trip are: A. C. Sinclair (Captain), G. A. Johnston (Manager), C. N. Brown, O. Hagenstein, F. Hadley, J. R. Moffett, A. Logan, R. R. Duell, N. G. Hammond, J. Bradley, H. G. Fabian, A. W. Wagstaff, R. E. Berthet.

SELECTIONS.

Selections for the various events have not been definitely made but it is expected that they will be as follows:

50 metres free style: C. N. Brown, N. G. Hammond.

200 metres free style: F. Hadley, N. G. Hammond.

200 metres free style: F. Hadley, A. Logan.

400 metres free style: F. Hadley, A. Logan.

Diving: R. R. Duell.

100 metres backstroke: O. Hagenstein, J. R. Moffett.

100 metres breast stroke: O. Hagenstein, R. R. Duell.

Medley Relay: O. Hagenstein, J. R. Moffett, F. Hadley.

Relay: A. Logan, C. N. Brown, N. G. Hammond, F. Hadley.

Water Polo: J. Bradley, G. A. Johnston, H. G. Fabian, A. G. Sinclair, G. N. Brown.

RACES AT MACAO TO-MORROW

FIRST OF NEW SEASON

2 MACHINE GUN CORPS EVENTS

AND A LADIES' RACE

COMMENTS AND SELECTIONS

[By "Ringtail"]

The sixth extra meeting of the Macao Jockey Club, to-morrow the first meeting to be held after the Summer holidays, has given indications of attracting a big attendance of race-goers.

Considering the summer break during which many ponies may have changed form and the fact that a number of events over sprint distances, punters are warned of possible upsets. Hongkong Jockey Club ponies will be racing in the "D" and "E" classes and there should be some close finishes among them.

For the Arcle Protn Handicap over six furlongs for Macao subscription griffins, Battling Horse, if started at 168 lbs, should make an easy job of the race. Bold Lad and Jackie are both fancied for places here with the chances of swinging slightly in favour of the former, should the top-weight carrier fail to make a good start.

For the "D" Class race, The Mong Ha Handicap, Powerful King and Valley Hall both appeal, in accordance with previous season's form. Powerful King is better suited to the distance, while Valley Hall has changed owners quite recently and it is doubtful whether the chestnut still maintains its old form. It will be recalled that Valley Hall once surprised many by doing the mile in 2.04 over this course.

KING'S COUNSEL.

The Machine Gun Troop Handicap, an unofficial event of once round the course, should attract many starters and will possibly provide the best dividend of the afternoon. Among ponies which I consider to have chances of annexing this event are King's Counsel, Mouchie, Peter Davey and Britannic Hall.

King's Counsel has been doing some excellent racing on the Hongkong course for many seasons, and despite its age the pony should match against any of these troop ponies over a medium distance. I fancy its chance of winning to-morrow.

In another troop event, The Machine Gun Troop Scramble over half mile, the likely result is still more open. Inshallah, Boston and White Label are recalled for their previous fine gallops at Fanling and any of the three should do well to-morrow. I rather think that Inshallah will be made a favourite here with Boston and White Label next in demand.

SHOULD WIN EASILY.

The Praia Grande Handicap over six furlongs, "E" Class, should provide a keen race for Snappy Eve, a well known sprinter in its class, Golly Eyes, a griffin of this season, and Black Velvet, a subscription griffin of 1933, which disappointed badly in the annual meeting last Spring.

If Snappy Eve maintains the slightest form it should run away with the first prize, otherwise I like the chances of Golly Eyes and Black Velvet. The latter, if ridden by a good jockey, must be watched. The only outsider worth consideration is Lucky Star.

The Ladies' Handicap should provide another contest between Christmas Belle, City of Shanghai, and Black Velvet, if the latter does not appear earlier in the programme. City of Shanghai is favoured here.

KNOCKED OUT BY TENNIS BALL

J. H. Wheatcroft's Mishap

Buxton, Aug. 25. Mr. J. H. Wheatcroft was struck by a tennis ball and knocked unconscious for five minutes when playing in the semi-final of the open mixed doubles of the Derbyshire Lawn tennis championships here to-day.

Mr. Wheatcroft was playing with Mr. Wheatcroft, and the ball had been hit by Mr. G. L. Rogers, who was partnered by Miss Ingram.

On recovering Mr. Wheatcroft continued the match, but was so shaken that he and Mrs. Wheatcroft lost.

I only know of one other such incident. That was when J. Borotra, of France, was hit from a terrible smash by Gerald Patterson, the Australian, and was unconscious for two hours.

WOMEN'S JOYOUS CRICKET

NO LEG THEORY BOTHERS THEM

BUT THEY MUST WEAR WHITE

Colwall, Aug. 23.

This little village is thronged with players for the women's cricket week, which celebrates the seventh birthday of the Women's Cricket Association.

They are not troubled by leg-theory bowling; players hit the ball with a heartening smack to the boundary, or send down good length balls that scatter the stumps.

Their cricket is a light-hearted, joyous affair, with no sort of county rivalry, league tables, or trophies.

So keen are they to play the game for the sake that the captains held a special meeting and agreed not to keep batting and bowling averages.

There are players here from 30 clubs, including a cheery little party from Scotland.

STRICT DRESS RULES.

Dress rules are strict, and the players would not dream of departing from the order of white frock and white cotton stockings.

There was surprise when Miss Stone, a Coventry school teacher, arrived in black shorts and blouse, and her luggage had been delayed on the railway.

She was, of course, not allowed to play in such dress, so before joining Mrs. Scott Bowden's team at Eastnor Castle she bought a hair-dresser's white, short-sleeved overall, in which she played.

Mrs. Scott Bowden's son Logan was a spectator at that match, and critically watched his mother bowl and bat. Her team played Miss Snowball's team, who were dismissed for 50 runs.

CRICKET GIRLS BEAT BOYS

One Takes 6 for 36

Women cricketers easily defeated a team which included Public Schoolboys from Uppingham, Marlborough, and Shrewsbury at Colwall, Herefordshire, last month.

Miss Mollie Hyde, a Reading University student, took six wickets for 36 runs.

In spite of a score of 114 by G. M. Thornycroft, of Shrewsbury, the boys were dismissed for 172.

The women passed the boys' total with the loss of only two wickets and went on to make a lively 291 for seven.

Miss Hyde, the heroine of the match, is also a brilliant bat, and in the England v. The Rest match at Leicester she made one short of her century.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

How would you like to be your own mother and meet your self face to face? It doesn't sound possible, and yet Cicely Courtneidge manages to be both at once—on the screen in "Soldiers of the King." This seemingly impossible feat was made by double-exposure photograph, and a marvellous make-up. Cicely as Maise Marvello, the daughter—easy. As Jenny Marvello, ex-Queen of the Marvello Troupe—not so easy!

The effect was achieved mainly by a special wig and by skillfully changing the line of the eyebrows entirely, making them bushy and somewhat droopy at the sides, and also by treatment of the mouth, which was left free from lipstick and lined, to give a dried-up effect. The hands, too, were altered to give a shrivelled, veined appearance. Add the mannerisms to the make-up and you have "the portrait of an old lady."

"Soldiers of the King" coming on Sunday next at the King's Theatre.

"The Great Jasper"

A brand new characterization for Richard Dix is the gay, irresponsible and utterly irresponsible lover who becomes known as "The Great Jasper" in the RKO-Radio Picture of that title showing at the Central Theatre to-day.

Dix has been just about every sort of a rugged, hero and adventurer in his long and highly successful screen career, but this is the first time that all his "adventures" have worn skirts.

Jasper could no more help winking at women than he could help breathing. Having once seen that wicked wink, no woman could help falling, and, to Jasper's amazing credit, no woman regretted. No woman except his wife. Though he could not be faithful to her, neither could he stop loving her—and there-in lies the drama of "The Great Jasper."

Wera Engle, RKO-Radio's recent importation from Germany, makes her debut in American picture in this film. Edna May Oliver, Florence Eldridge, Betty Furness, Bruce Cabot, Walter Walker and others give leading support to Richard Dix in "The Great Jasper" an adaptation by H. W. Hanemann and Robert Tasker, of Fulton Oursler's celebrated novel. J. Walter Ruben directed. Most of the action of the story takes place in Atlantic City.

"King of the Jungle"

A great pack of lions in their lair in an African jungle, ruled by the Lion Man, a strange white man who speaks only the language of the lions; the capture of both lions and Lion Man by a circus man; a burning of animals and human beings—these are a few of the salient features of "King of the Jungle," a tremendously stirring melodrama, which opened yesterday at the Queen's Theatre.

The audience is treated in the excitement of the narrative from the opening scene, and finds it impossible to relax until the final fade-out, so expertly have the directors Bruce Humphreys and Max Marcin handled the action. The whole film moves at a terrific pace, and the stampede scene in which a herd of elephants runs wild in busy city streets, overturning buses, smashing automobiles, tearing up water hydrants and crashing through windows has seldom been duplicated for thrill.

According to the story, Kappa, the Lion Man, has grown up in his jungle, happy with his lion friends, and knowing nothing of the outside world, until he and four of his lions are captured and shipped to America. During the voyage, Kappa becomes a part of a customs official's argument with a customs officer in the harbour, Kappa escapes. While dodging the police, he climbs through an apartment window, attracted there by the sight of food on a table, and is discovered by the two occupants of the apartment, Ann (Frances Dee) and Sue (Nydia Westman). Ann is a school teacher who has a weakness for stray cats and dogs, and knows instinctively how to handle Kappa. As instinctively, he trusts her, and she proves so indispensable that when Kappa is taken back to the circus, the circus owner asks Ann to come along as his teacher.

A year later Ann and Kappa are in love. She wants him to leave the circus and return to his newly found family in England. But Kappa has one idea to make enough money to take them home in Africa. He is about to agree with Ann, however, when a fight breaks out in the circus, endangering his lions. His heroic rescue of his jungle friends convinces the girl that Kappa's plan is the better one. The two of them, therefore, take the lions back to Africa, release them, and Kappa becomes game guardian of the district.

Frances Dee is charming as Ann, and, in addition to Miss Westman, the supporting cast includes Douglas Dumbrille, Robert Adair and Florence Britton.

"The Man From Toronto"

There is one striking character in "The Man From Toronto," showing at the King's Theatre to-day, the Gainsborough picture which ideal is releasing to see on the screen. She is Mrs. Hubbard (Margaret Yarde), the owner of the Red Barn, a strong-minded, square-jawed lady who is determined that the villagers shall mould their lives to the design that she has in mind. Mrs. Hubbard is one of those masterful women who affect Harris tweeds and a loud tone of voice who consider Morris dancing the last word in village entertainment, and whose abhorrence of jazz is very akin to disease.

Mrs. Hubbard's attempt to revive the art of willow-bow-tomping, pottery, and dead-and-gone arts and crafts is as funny as it is pathetic. It is such good fun that it is impossible not to laugh at this masterpiece. The lady, whose attempts to dominate the villagers are inevitably doomed to disappointment. "The Man From Toronto" is just the sort of story that goes with a swing. Never yet has Jessie Matthews appeared in a picture to greater advantage.

WORLD CRISIS A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer, and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme. The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of—

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

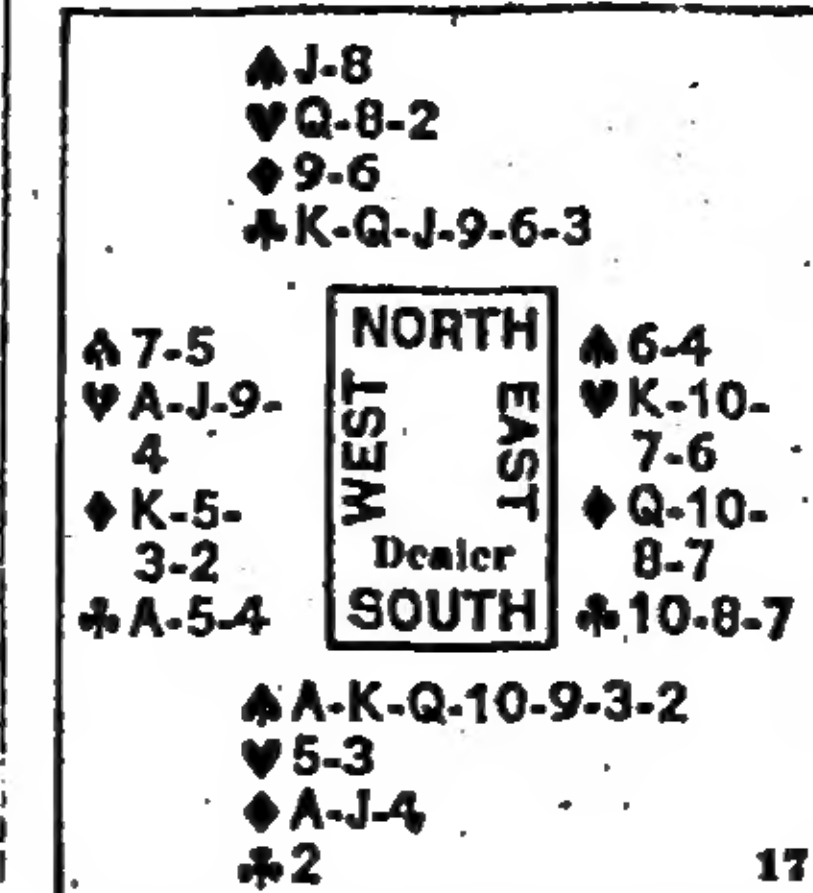

You are justified in gambling on losing an extra trick only when the success of your plan will defeat the contract.
While most tables arrived at a four spade contract in the following hand, in the National Mixed Contract Team of Four Championship, it was interesting to note that only a few tables had the courage to lead away from the king of diamonds. However, the defensive play is quite obvious if you will take time to analyze the hand.

The Bidding

South, the dealer, opened with one spade. West, who was vulnerable, passed. North bid two clubs and South bid three spades. North bid three no trump and South went to four spades.

The Play

The normal opening was the ace of hearts and now West could see that there was a stop-up club suit staring him in the face. The bidding had indicated that South held a long and strong spade suit—the jack of spades may be the needed entry into dummy.

East had given a high heart, indicating that he held the king, but it was a little risky to continue with the heart suit as South may trump the next trick. However, if South has another heart West can see only two heart tricks and the ace of clubs.

In order to set the contract he realized that a diamond trick must be established and the only hope he had was to find his partner with the queen of diamonds.
He now deliberately led a small diamond away from his king. East played the queen and declared won with the ace. Then, when the declarer led a small club, West won with the ace, cashed his king of diamonds and led a heart which East won with the king, defeating the declarer's contract one trick.

OPEN VERDICT.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF
EARL OF KERRY

London, Sept. 15.
An open verdict was returned by a majority of 7 to 2 at the inquest into the death of the Earl of Kerry, eldest son of the Marquis of Lansdowne, who was killed when he fell under a tube train at Regent Park underground station on September 12.

The Coroner, summing up, referred to the evidence that the Earl of Kerry, who had just returned from Germany, had been sensible and there was a possibility that he had fainted and fallen under the tube train.

The Coroner said that neither the victim's conversation nor his letters coincided with a suicide theory.—Reuter.

ANOTHER PLEA.

CHINA WILL ASK FOR LEAGUE
OPINION

Nanking, Sept. 15.
The Central Evening News states to-day that the Chinese delegates will again raise the Sino-Japanese problem at the League of Nations Council meetings commencing Sept. 25.

The journal predicts that the Chinese delegation will ask the Council effectively to enforce its resolutions in connection with the non-recognition of Manchukuo and pass judgment on events occurring since the last assembly, such as the Japanese occupation of Jehol and the Japanese military campaign in North China.—Reuter.

TREASURY BILLS

£45,000,000 ALLOTTED
IN TENDERS

London, Sept. 15.
The amount applied for in Treasury bill tenders to-day was £52,440,000. The amount allotted in bills at three months was £45,000,000. The average rate per cent, was 6/11 3/4, as compared with 6/7 3/4 a week ago.—British Wireless.

SIR HUGH CLIFFORD

"MUCH BETTER THAN FOR A LONG TIME"

London, Sept. 8.
The reference to the "late" Sir Hugh Clifford in yesterday's Evening Standard is probably the reason for this morning's statement in The Times that Sir Hugh Clifford is still lying ill in a nursing home, but is now much better than for a long time.—Straits Times.

SILVER WEDDING.

WOTHERSPOON-IMRAY.—On 16th September, 1908, at St. Joseph's Church, Hongkong by the Reverend Father Pallid, William, son of the late William Wotherspoon, Engineer of Wishaw Lanarkshire, to Isabella Marie Agnes, daughter of William Imray of Port Augustus, Scotland.

BIRTH.

BROWN.—On September 15, 1933, at the Victoria Hospital, to C. S. M. and Mrs. F. W. Brown, South Wales Borderers, twins (premature) Mollie and Michael.

AMERICAN LOAN

MONEY FROM SALE OF COMMODITIES

Nanking, Sept. 15.
In connexion with the disposal of the American wheat and cotton loan, a Chinese Press report states that Government leaders, at the conclusion of the Kuling Conference tentatively agreed to appropriate 80 per cent of the proceeds for rehabilitation of rural China.

Another 30 per cent will be spent on the improvement of Chinese cotton.

Twenty per cent will go towards the re-organisation of the currency and the remaining 20 per cent for specific enterprises.

The report points out that the leaders did not assign definite sums to any enterprises because the Government was uncertain of the exact sum to be realised from the American loan, until the wheat and cotton purchased from America under this loan had been sold by the Government.

The report adds that Mr. Hsi Teh-mou will be appointed Chief of the Bureau handling the loan.

An office is to be established in Shanghai soon for taking charge of the commodities after their arrival.—Reuter.

A report a few days ago that $15,000,000 of the $50,000,000 would be allocated to Canton was denied.

Suffering from scalds to the body, legs and arms, caused while pouring boiling sugar on to a table at 21D, Malacca Street, Shaokwan area, a Chinese, Lam Chuen, 22, was sent to the hospital for treatment.
